

Subject: re: Paul Bovolos
From: David Ashton <dk@davidashton.biz>
Date: 23/08/2021, 12:23 am
To: monckton@mail.com

Dear Lord Monckton,

You don't know me, I live in Australia.

I watched an interview Paul recorded with you via Skype on 18th September 2015.

Sadly it is no longer on Youtube and sadly upon research it looks like Paul passed away in 2017, having found funeral records online (if I found the right Paul and I believe I did).

I recorded a copy for myself for safekeeping thankfully (though a poor quality one but good enough to get the message).

He mentioned he was your friend.

I support and 100% believe everything you said back then and sadly it is coming to fruition more and more each day - slowed down by Trump. Not sure what the future holds there, but I hear a word devolution bandied about might be something to keep our eyes on. If this is true Trump will be a major target to a lot of people who would lose a lot of money and I fear for his safety if what I suspect will happen.

Anyway, Paul didn't look that old and I was wondering can you point me in the direction of his reason for death?

I hope it wasn't for sinister reasons, as a lot of people seem to disappear and suicide that are publicly against these Tyrants.

I am reconsidering re-posting that video however I may make it for the eyes of people I know and trust under password protection, if I find out some sinister info from you.

As this is insecure way of communication I will also understand if you can't answer by this medium, but if you said for safety be prudent who you show it to, then that will be enough of a signal.

God bless you, I see all the lies online by these leftist Tyrants, who will have to answer one day to their maker.

Hoping you can answer me.

--

all the best
David Ashton
Hosting. SEO. Design

